

We keep the Automotive Industry running: dynamically, efficiently and innovatively

Modix has been on the market for over 20 years and is the Europe-wide leader in solutions for vehicle sales.

We are part of the US-based Cox Group and can rely on the network and possibilities of an international enterprise and combine this with the flexibility and individual support of a company under owner management.

Become a part of our team Recruiter (m/f/d)

This is where you work!

- You work together with three other HR colleagues in our Modix headquarter in Koblenz, but you are part of the international HR team at Cox Automotive Europe based in the UK.
- Your ideas, concepts and HR measures will be used in all business units worldwide.
- The HR team sees itself as an internal service provider along the entire employee life cycle.
- We think HR in a contemporary way and act proactively as a business partner.
- Our view of people is characterized by a positive and appreciative attitude.

This is what you do!

- You are passionate and enthusiastic about Talent Acquisition, ensuring a positive candidate experience throughout the recruiting process.
- You take responsibility for filling various positions with a high focus on tech recruiting - also for our other locations in Belgium, Italy, Spain, France, and China.
- You define the requirements of each position with the business units, implement targeted search strategies, and attract the exact reinforcements we need.
- You actively approach potential candidates via appropriate channels and platforms.
- You use your knowledge to meet our hiring managers at eye level and drive the expansion of our employer branding measures.
- You organize the On- and Offboarding together with our specialized departments.

These are your abilities!

- Successfully completed studies with a focus on human resources
- Relevant professional experience in a comparable position, preferably in the areas of e-commerce or tech
- Knowledge of the IT job market and current recruiting trends
- Very good German and English writing and verbal communication skills
- A good feeling for people and high level of social communicative skills
- Independent working style and a high degree of initiative

This is what we offer!

- Personal development and regular trainings
- Chances of promotion in an innovative company

- Trust-based working hours
- Optimal Equipment
- Regularly held employee events
- Free parking
- Pioneer spirit and joy on the job in a technology-minded team
